PROPOSITION ON CONVEYOR GAINS GROUND

Sen. Sheppard Reports On Bill To Allow Firm To Proceed With Plan

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Feb. 18 (AP)—“Little real opposition” was seen today in the legislature to a 130-mile conveyor belt line in Northeast Ohio.

That's the word from Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit), co-sponsor of a bill to permit construction of the $210,000,000 project.

The belt line would transport iron ore and coal between Lorain on Lake Erie and East Liverpool on the Ohio river. It would serve the Ohio-Pennsylvania-West Virginia steelmaking area.

Sheppard said railroad brotherhoods were expected to oppose the project because it would compete with rail lines serving the area.

Other labor unions may support the brotherhoods, Sheppard speculated, but a project creating thousands of jobs won't be too unpopular these days. Most of that support will be tacit, he predicted.

The measure by Sheppard and Sen. Edwin F. Sawicki (D-Cuyahoga) would make the Riverlake Belt Conveyor Line, Inc., a common carrier under Ohio Public Utilities commission regulation. As such, it could condemn land for the belt line upon proper payment to owners.

Sheppard said he wasn't sure about railroad opposition but expressed belief the lines weren't too concerned.

Railman President
H. B. Stewart, Jr., president of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown railroad, announced formation of the conveyor corporation.

He estimated freight savings on coal and ore transportation costs at $20,000,000 to $45,000,000 annually. That would be enough to pay off private financing for the belt line in 20 years, he predicted.

The savings on ore delivered to mills in Youngstown and Pittsburgh was set at from $7 to 68 cents a ton and 50 cents to $150 a ton on coal hauling to Lake Erie.

Figures showed 1947 iron ore tonnage for the New York Central railroad in the area was 9,075,000; Pennsylvania 17,500,000; Baltimore & Ohio 5,632,900; Wheeling & Lake Erie 1,794,150 and Erie 2,000,000.

Both houses of the legislature went home for the weekend yesterday after a busy session. The house shut off new bills after Monday night's flood. Members then passed 12 bills and sent them to the senate before adjournment until Monday night.

But the senate doesn't observe any new law deadline. An even dozen new bills were received there so the legislative mill didn't gain much headway. The total stands at 653 bills introduced in the house and 198 in the senate.

Senate highway committee members predicted that a bill to authorize super-roads in Ohio like the Pennsylvania turnpike will be reported out Monday night.

Another likely prospect was fair employment practices legislation in the house labor committee.

Committee members' questioning of witnesses at two hearings indicated they favored recommending the controversial measure for passage by the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The same committee rushed through a bill to repeal the Ferguson act banning strikes by public employees. The repealer passed the house and is pending in the senate.

LABOR DEBATE PLODS ALONG IN COMMITTEE

Industry Calls for Stronger Taft-Hartley Law; Wilson Is Witness

BY MAX HALL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The weary senate labor committee plodded into more labor law hearings today after getting an industry leader's demand that the Taft-Hartley law be strengthened instead of repealed.

Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, who was vice chairman of the War Production board during the war, took this aggressive line late yesterday.

His defense of Taft-Hartley signaled the time of deciding whether to repeal the law.

Senator Murray of Montana launched an attack on General Electric's great size and suggested that company officials be required to sign affidavits opposing "the gradual concentration of ownership that is leading us into totalitarianism."

Answers Assertion
Senator Pepper of Florida met Wilson's assertion that he can't discover any "abuses" in the Taft-Hartley law by saying the whole thing is "just anathema" to the mass of American workers.

And as more industry witnesses lined up to testify before the senators today, the house labor committee at the other end of the Capitol neared the time of deciding whether to have hearings of its own concerning the Taft-Hartley act.

Rep. John Kennedy (D) of Massachusetts, a member of the house group, said in an interview he is very much in favor of house hearings.

Rep. Kennedy said he has heard talk that the house committee may send a Taft-Hartley repeal bill to the house floor without hearing any testimony on it.

"I will certainly object if there is any attempt to rush the bill through," Rep. Kennedy said.

Wilson said the Taft-Hartley ban on the closed shop should be strengthened, not removed. Under closed shop contracts, the employer agrees to hire only union members and fire anyone who loses his membership.

Board Estimates 1,000 Used Voting Machines in County

Preparing to wind up a four-week public demonstration of voting machines, the county election board estimated today 1,000 persons have cast "trial ballots" in Salem, East Liverpool and Lisbon.

A week's demonstration ended here this afternoon and the machines will be put into storage to await shipment back to the manufacturers, Frank R. O'Hanlon, board clerk, said.

They were on display at East Liverpool two weeks and then at Lisbon a week before being moved here.

The demonstration was ordered by the board as part of an investigation to determine the possibility of installing the machines in the county's 121 precincts. It emphasized no decision has been made.

The devices are manufactured by the Shoup Voting Machine Corp. of Philadelphia and the Automatic Voting Machine Corp. of Jamestown, N. Y.

Worried Farmers, Seasonal Market Blamed For Drops

BY LARRY AULDRIDGE

COLUMBUS, Feb. 18 (INS)—“Worried farmers” and seasonal market reactions were blamed today by state agriculturists for drops in Ohio livestock and grain prices.

State Agriculture Director A. W. Marion contended that an “orderly” market would do much to alleviate the strain on price standards.

He pointed out that the price drops were “more or less seasonal.” The director said the recent cuts in prices of livestock were caused by “cattlemen who wanted to unload animals which had been fed on high priced feed.”

“When the feeders brought their cattle to market, other cattlemen got scared and moved their animals to the yards with unusual speed. The packers had more than they could handle.”

“Of course, there are some animals which must be sold at certain times to prevent loss to the owner but, not as many as were marketed recently.”

Statistics summarized by Eldon E. Houghton, statistician in the U. S. Department of agriculture, showed the unpredictable fluctuation of farm produce prices in the past year.

Drops General

While hogs and cattle dropped from two to four dollars per hundredweight in the past several months, eggs, milk and by-products also took comparable reductions.

In the past 30 days, the majority of farm prices were scaled down. Houghton said:

“One can't be too optimistic about prices but farmers are using more fertilizer now to increase the quality of their crops. On the present corn market, the price offered the farmer has been low because of a high moisture content in the grain.”

“With a higher quality of grain, the farmer will get more money than with the present market produce. The farmer of course, is thinking a great deal about prices today and wants to sell to get all he can before a drop.”

Dale C. Williams, chairman of the Ohio Producers Marketing Association, issued his advice to the farmer:

“Keep your shirt on and don't get excited. Just take it easy and market only what should necessarily be sold.”

Williams said the main worry, or problem, of the Ohio farmers was corn storage. He explained:

“It's best to get rid of dry corn property. It will take time, but if the farmer wants to get a decent price or use his corn to the best advantage, he should dry it out. As far as current prices of corn are concerned, there's going back up.”

“I see no reason why all the prices shouldn't come back up in the near future. The PMA expects most prices to be increased to standards above the support prices offered to Ohio farmers.”

Williams said the trend on Ohio farms today was toward raising more animals to utilize the surplus grain crop. Explaining that the wheat crop already planted in Ohio was expected to be a record harvest.

WILL DISCUSS PACT WORDING

Sec. Acheson To Explain Exact Content of North Atlantic Pact

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee called in Secretary of State Acheson today for a study of just how to word the proposed Atlantic defense treaty.

Secy. Acheson's testimony was sought in a closed session called by Chairman Connally (D) of Texas for 3 p. m.

“It is my understanding that the language which the department is proposing will be laid before the committee,” Connally told a reporter.

He added that if the committee approves the wording, the treaty proposal is expected to be submitted at once to other nations in on the negotiations. These include Canada and five Western European countries—Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

By far the most important and, thus far, unsettled issue is the wording of a defense clause—the problem of what to promise if one of the member states of the security system is attacked.

President Truman reaffirmed at a news conference yesterday that American policy calls for the agreement to provide: “Unmistakable proof of the joint determination of the free countries to resist armed attack from any quarter.”

Was In Address

He had used that language in defining the purpose of the security project in his inaugural address January 20. He told reporters that the policy he thus set forth still stands.

The attitudes of the various senate leaders were sharply brought out in a debate last month. Senators Connally and Vandenberg (R) of Michigan agreed then that the United States should not make any commitments to go to war automatically.

This is also basically the state department's feeling about the defense clause. Authorities say that it is one of the limitations which makes it difficult to draft a treaty which would at once be acceptable here and at the same time provide the Western Europeans with the sense of security they want in respect to any possible aggression by Russia.

Some of the Western European negotiators have urged the United States to make the strongest possible promise of intention to act in event of an attack. However, the state department has in general based its negotiations on the provisions of the Inter-American security treaty which is already in effect.

This treaty provides first of all that all the signatory countries agree that an attack on one of them would be considered an attack on all. It then leaves up to each nation the decision as to what steps it should take to meet the attack. It thus sidesteps any commitment to go to war automatically.

One thing the Europeans have been urging is that “military action” should be specifically listed among the possible steps to be taken. It is understood that Senator Vandenberg and probably other leaders would not personally object to the inclusion of such language, but whether it would be acceptable to the senate as a whole when the treaty comes to a vote is another question.

COUNCIL TO DECIDE PERSHING ST. WIDTH

Preliminaries to the actual construction of Salem's proposed new city hall passed into the final stages today after city council, meeting as a committee last night, agreed on final plans.

City Hall Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich reported that council will meet once more, to arrange for the possible widening of E. Pershing st. between S. Ellsworth and S. Broadway, before calling in the architect to prepare advertisements for contract bids.

Last night the solons went over preliminary plans for the one-story building and made minor changes suggested by the police and fire chiefs.

Koenreich said little alteration in plans actually was needed to bring specifications into the scope wanted by the two department heads. The building, as now set up, will include housing for the police, fire and water departments and public rest rooms, all on one floor.

The plan has the above departments housed in the new structure and other city offices, including council chamber, the mayor's office, engineering and auditing departments and relief offices, in the old McKelvey home, located on the lot adjoining the site of the new building.

Koenreich said council will meet with property owners to consider widening of E. Pershing st. in the S. Broadway-S. Ellsworth block. The street there is now 24 feet wide. It is hoped that the street can be made either 34 or 40 feet wide, depending on developments with owners involved.

TRUMAN GUESS GETS REACTION

President's Confidence In Business Future Brings 'Hands-Off' Cries

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Truman's confident forecast of continued prosperity brought this reaction today from his Capitol Hill critics: The best way to help the nation's business is to leave it alone.

The President also renewed his request yesterday for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost—a proposal which appeared to be picking up support from Democrats, but only if necessary to keep the treasury out of the red. There is a lot of opposition, however.

Truman told his Thursday news conference current price drops are only the leveling-off that everybody has been hoping for, and he spoke confidently of the business outlook. He said the business situation is nothing to be alarmed about.

Some critics agreed that the leveling off is healthy. But they said the President's economic control program, if approved by congress, might turn a healthy recession into a depression.

While Truman took the economic temperature, there were these other developments:

New Developments
1. Buying interest in the New York stock market sharpened yesterday and the market moved ahead for the best overall advance in six weeks.

2. At Cleveland, the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad announced temporary layoffs for more than 4,000 employees in four areas. A spokesman blamed declining passenger business and slower movement of coal due to a mild winter.

3. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordered a five-day furlough late this month for 2,321 of its shop employees. A continued decline in freight business was given as the reason.

4. At Detroit, the Kaiser-Frazer automobile company announced it will close its Willow Run plant, where 7,000 work, for three weeks while plans are made for production of two new utility model cars.

5. The United States Chamber of Commerce advised employers to resist fourth-round wage hikes lest they reverse the downward trend in the cost of living.

6. A majority of the 17 private-industry economists attending a Capitol Hill conference spoke out against the administration's request for higher taxes and wage-price controls. They contended such action now would hamper business expansion.

The house yesterday voted to let the President keep part of the power he now has. A bill extending export controls for 28 months was passed and sent to the senate, which has approved a similar measure with slight differences.

MARGARET O'BRIEN OPPOSES WEDDING

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18 (UP)—Movie star Margaret O'Brien may pass up her own mother's wedding, and she cried on learning of it, her aunt said today.

Mrs. Gladys O'Brien, mother of the 12-year-old tear-jerker, plans to marry Don Sylvia, Palm Beach and Hollywood orchestra leader, on Monday. Margaret is here with her.

The child was greatly upset when she was told the news, said Mrs. Jean Harris, Mrs. O'Brien's sister, and “may not attend” the ceremony. Mrs. Harris said Margaret “doesn't think much of the idea.”

Mrs. O'Brien and Sylvia have known each other for five years, and plan to be married at St. Edward's Catholic church here.

Temperatures were much higher over the central states and seasonable in most other sections of the country. The only rain belts were in Washington and Oregon and along the central and west Gulf coast.

Where The Shoe Pinches

There is no shortage of public income in Washington, D. C. Congressmen can still quibble with state-milklike dignity about spending or not spending hundreds of millions of dollars—even billions of dollars.

They are still under the illusion that World War II made the nation fat and prosperous. There is plenty of money in circulation. As far as the federal treasury is concerned, U. S. still stands for Uncle Sugar.

But income and outgo are not matters confined to the chambers of congress and the multitudinous spending agencies of the federal government. In the United States, government functions at many levels—townships, counties, municipalities, school districts, sewer districts, states and, in the case of TVA and certain port authority in regions. And all of these governments also must grapple with problems of income and outgo.

Furthermore, beyond government itself is the source of all government income—the individuals, families and tax-paying organizations of the nation. They are grappling with income and outgo too. And they are beginning to realize what is still hidden to spenders and legislators in Washington. World War II did not make the United States fat and prosperous. Taxpayers are losing that illusion in a hurry.

They are beginning to scramble for financial ways and means. The spending show is pinching. While the federal government continues to be preoccupied about billions, the rest of the country is having to scrape the barrel for the ordinary means of survival. While the federal government anticipates huge tax collections, lower levels of government are hungrily eyeing the crumbs that may be left when the federal feast is over. And taxpayers are grimly tightening their belts as they read in Washington news reports that the federal government is preparing to expend, expand and explode at any cost.

Built-In Resistance

Reports of underground resistance to Communist domination of "satellite" governments are easy to believe.

Communists know clearly what many non-Communists have forgotten or never have known. Communism, in the form that has developed in Russia, is a form of political reaction. Resistance to its repressive tactics is instinctive. It is built into the minds and hearts of human beings.

The same kind of people who risked their lives to fight Hitlerism will fight Stalinism. The Russian doctrine of absolutism is not a popular movement. It never has commanded a majority in Russia itself, where the "dictatorship" of the proletariat has become in reality a dictatorship of bureaucrats holding power in the name of the Russian proletariat.

Communists cannot win free and open elections; there is too much built-in opposition to their credo. And they know that. The men in the Kremlin are frightened, as they always have been. That's why they spare no effort to promote worldwide dictatorship. Unless that can be established—as they believe it can be—they will not be safe. And even then they still would face the hazard which ultimately upsets all despots—the will of most human beings to be free from despotism.

It may be safely assumed that sketchy reports of underground resistance in the "satellite" countries are only a fraction of what the Communist hierarchy itself knows about its opposition.

Fire When Ready, Gridley

The U. S. Maritime commission has cast its lifeboats adrift with a decision to start construction of a U. S. passenger liner in the Queen Elizabeth-Queen Mary class. The project will cost taxpayers at least $87,000,000 if carried through to completion.

The case for a super-liner is primarily based on its wartime use as a troopship. In peacetime, its use as a luxury ship would be made possible only with enormous public subsidies. While the British Queen ships are working at capacity right now, they will be among the first casualties of the war boom's collapse. Even the wealthiest have their financial limitations when it comes to buying passage on luxury liners.

A U. S. super-liner in the mammoth class has been a favorite dream of shipbuilders and blue-water enthusiasts for many years. They have deplored this country's cheerful willingness to let the British, French, Germans and Italians claim the biggest and fastest ships afloat. Their pride has been hurt. But in the past, whenever they cried in anguish, their cries lined them up in their sights and let go with a salvo. You may fire when ready, Gridley. Another superliner is coming over the horizon.

It's A Watchdog's Life

Governor Dewey and Senator Vandenberg have advised the GOP to resume its position in the middle of the road and its role of governmental watchdog. We seem to recall that the GOP was sitting in the same spot and performing the same duty in 38, 40, 44 and 48 when that big, fast Democratic machine came whizzing around the corner and smacked it.

Deep Freeze

The Soviet government, which has been claiming that Russians invented practically everything since the wheel, now declares that Russian sailors discovered Antarctica 130 years ago. And it vows that it will never give up the right to dispose of territories discovered by Russian sailors.

The cold war isn't cold enough for the Kremlin. Now it wants to squabble over the South Pole.

London has a law prohibiting standing in street corners during rush hours. We have something that seems to prohibit sitting.

BY WALTER KURNAN

Signs of spring in the east include blooming crocuses, the return of the robins and the arrest of a man who offered to marry seven women single-handed.

But in the mid-west one man reports his wife went to milk the cows in January and hasn't come back. He knows she's living because he can detect an extra "moose" coming from the barn.

It may be March before he sees her or a pink check again but if she's been tending to her duty he'll have enough sour cream to float a decoration.

In Philadelphia it's such beautiful weather that Miss Gull arranged for everyone to walk to work for a week.

In New York last fare was to be increased. The bus fare will be 30 cents for the first quarter mile or the fare to nearest subway station or to the city.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Youngster's Emotional Upsets

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Children during the pre-school and early school years are subject to many emotional upsets. Emotional disturbances in certain children may lead to the development of a condition called hysteria. This may be manifested by such things as lack of emotional control, crying, or screaming. Often, the younger child may have symptoms like those of certain sicknesses, such as acidosis or migraine, diarrhea or abdominal symptoms like those of appendicitis. These symptoms are particularly noticeable in the period before maturity. During the maturing time, or adolescence, other symptoms, such as fainting, loss of memory, paresis or loss of function of certain muscles, may appear.

Requires Study

The treatment of hysteria requires a study of the child's temperament and the things which have led to a feeling of insecurity. In many cases, the symptoms develop because of improper environment in the home. If the parents are quarrelsome or under economic strain, if the mother is irritable, over-protective or neglectful, misbehavior in the form of hysteria may occur. Bullying or teasing children may also cause emotional disturbances.

When parents show anxiety or great concern over these symptoms of hysteria, the child is quite likely to continue them. If the parents can adopt the proper matter-of-fact attitude toward the condition and the home conditions are made satisfactory, the hysteria usually disappears.

There are other measures, too, which may be helpful in the younger child. The child should be given such toys as a sand-box, water, dolls, toy animals, blocks, and objects which can be hammered or destroyed, so that he may express his feelings through their use.

The child who vomits or has headaches when faced with new tasks must be encouraged or reassured. He should not be forced into any situation which would lead to a mental breakdown.

During a screaming attack or temper tantrum, the child's attention should be diverted in any way possible. He should not be excited before bedtime.

The child with hysteria needs special study by a specialist so that the condition can be eradicated as quickly as possible.

Early and proper treatment in these conditions may often save much trouble in years to come.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. A.: Will you please tell me what to do for varicose veins?

Answer: The injection treatment for varicose veins is suitable under proper conditions. In other circumstances, simple support with elastic stockings or bandages is sufficient. In still other cases, surgical removal is necessary.

You should consult your own physician concerning the most suitable treatment in your case.

REPUBLIC, K-F. SIGN PEACE PACT

Kaiser-Frazer To Build New Open Hearth As Part of Agreement

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18—A friendly five-year pact has ended the once bitter fight between Republic Steel Corp. and Kaiser-Frazer Corp. For control of a $28,000,000 government-owned blast furnace here.

Republic will continue to operate the furnace and will get a multi-million dollar open hearth furnace at K-F expense. The automobile manufacturer will be assured of a source of steel.

And the midwestern foundrymen who last summer protested the K-F lease threatened their pig iron supply will receive their regular pig iron allotments, Republic spokesmen said.

The five-year agreement, announced last night by officers of both companies, extends their one-year arrangement made last summer for Republic to continue operating the big blast furnace it previously ran for the government.

The War Assets Administration rented the blast furnace to Kaiser-Frazer last Aug. 17 for $1,250,000 a year with an option to buy outright for $14,200,000 during the 20-year lease.

Republic, which had offered $13,600,000 for the furnace last May, raised a storm of protest and K-F lease was altered in U. S. senate hearings.

The new pact provides for Kaiser-Frazer to continue getting 12,000 tons of pig iron monthly from the Republic-operated government blast furnace.

But the surprising thing about the agreement is that Republic gets, apparently as an outright gift from K-F, a 200-ton-a-heat open hearth furnace.

Cancel Primary

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18—The city has called off the May 3 primary, thus saving $1,650. The action was taken when Marvin Bonvechio withdrew as a Democratic candidate for councilman-at-large. That left candidates of both parties without contests for nomination.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Special haked beans and Lincoln's favorite molasses nut pie make a tasty Lincoln's Birthday dinner.

Historians tell us that President Abraham Lincoln liked molasses pie and frequently ordered one from Taussig's Bakery in Washington, D. C.

Molasses Nut Pie

(Serves 6-8)
Three eggs, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup unsulphured molasses, 1 cup white corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon salt (omit salt if salted nuts are used), 2 to 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, melted, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon enriched flour, 1/2 cup peanuts, pecans, or walnuts, one 8-inch, unbaked pie shell.

Combine first 6 ingredients and mix well. Mix cinnamon with flour and with nuts, and add to egg-molasses mixture. Pour into an 8-inch unbaked pie crust. Bake 5 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.). Note: This pie is rather sweet and is best served warm with cold unsweetened whipped cream piled on top.

Spiced Beans With Frankfurters
(20 servings)
Four and one-half cups dried marrowfat or navy beans (about 2 pounds), 4 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 large onion, cut in half, 1/2 cup unsulphured molasses, 2/3 cup catsup, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 4 pound lean, salt pork, 6 to 8 frankfurters.

Wash beans; cover generously with cold water and soak overnight. When ready to cook, add salt and onion, and, if necessary, add additional water to cover beans. Bring beans to boiling point, and simmer until tender. Remove onion. Drain and save liquid. Combine molasses, spices and 3 cups bean liquid and, if necessary, add additional water to make 3 cups. Place half of the salt pork and half of onion in bottom of 3-quart bean pot. Add beans. Place remaining pork and onion on top of beans. Add liquid mixture. Cover. Bake 2 hours in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.). Remove cover and bake 30 minutes. Or bake 4 to 5 hours in very slow oven (275 degrees F.). Remove cover. Split frankfurters in half and arrange over beans. Bake 30 minutes.

Sebring Game Seen As Warm-up For Initial Tourney Fray

Millermen Could Upset Favored Trojans, But It Won't Help Record Much

BY BOB DIXON

Actually the game tonight doesn't mean much. The Salem High 1948-49 cage record, for all intents and purposes, is established. Five wins and 11 losses are already on the books.

It is the worst record a local team has turned in in at least 23 years. One more loss or a win won't change that fact.

Instead, the game with Sebring this evening, is more of a prep tilt for the important fray coming up with East Palestine in the Youngstown-South fieldhouse March 5, when the Quakers move into action in the district tournament.

That's the big one the Millermen are gunning for. The Sebring Trojans are incidental. However, the Red and Black may take the decision. It wouldn't surprise their followers too much. Going into the game 15 point underdogs, the locals are in a nice spot to spring a minor upset.

It will be the last regular season game for three of Bob Miller's senior hoopers. Tommy Miller, Eddie Bostch and Captain Wilford "Biggie" Faulkner will perform their last chores for S. H. S. Of course, they'll be around for tournament action too.

Miller will go with those three and Junior George Reash and Sophomore Jim Callahan, his season-long starters. Panting for action from the sidelines will be Bob Theiss and Don Abrams.

The Quakers have looked sharp in drills this week and are probably at the top of their game. The steady improvement, evidenced in the last few tilts, is not likely to disappear overnight.

Still pacing the Salem scoring is Tommy Miller, who has had his best year on the team. Finishing his third season of varsity play, Miller has contributed 183 points thus far.

His buddy, Bostch, is close behind with 168 tallies in 16 tilts. Following in order are Faulkner, with 121, Callahan at 162, and Reash with 65.

Both Miller and Bostch are aver-

PAR SUFFERS BAD DEFEAT AS PROS BEGIN AT HOUSTON

Pine Forest Club Easy For Top Boys; Low of 66 Shot by Turnesa

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 18—(AP)—The 60 golfers in the Saturday-Sunday final rounds of the $10,000 Houston open tournament may have to hold a score of par or better to qualify.

Houston's new Pine Forest country club took such a par-bubbling in yesterday's opening round that 49 players teared the 6,510-yard course at par 72 or lower. Sixteen others were only one-over.

Jim Turnesa, Briar Cliff, N. Y., one of seven famous golfing brothers, took the biggest slice off the course's regulation figures. He slipped in quietly with a 33-66 while most of the rain-soaked gallery was watching the putting of Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., who had collected a five-under 31 on the front nine.

The fans had figured Palmer was a cinch as the day's leader but he faltered on the last two greens and finished 31-66-47. This gave Palmer a second place tie with George Schoups, San Francisco, who went out in 34 and came in at 33.

Grouped one stroke back with 68's were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Albuquerque, N. M., Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md., Les Kennedy, Pawtucket, R. I., and Cary Middlecott, Memphis, Tenn.

Eight golfers were tied at 69 and seven at 70. The top amateur was Doug Ford, Seaside, N. Y., who had a 69. Glenn Teal, Jacksonville, Fla., scored a hole-in-one on the 185-yard, par three eleventh hole. He turned in a 38-66-74.

Primus, 423. Rance-Jensen, 427. Mullins-M. Huppely, 382.
